FRANKLIN PARK PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT
COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

1. PURPOSE

The Collection Development Policy documents the guidelines for selection, maintenance, and deselection of materials. The Library is committed to serving the needs and interests of its community, and the Library acknowledges that those needs and interests may change and evolve over time. The policies and procedures presented here will be re-evaluated on an ongoing basis and will undergo changes as necessary to enable the Library to continue to fulfill its community's needs and expectations.

2. OBJECTIVES OF THE COLLECTION

- 2.1 The Board of Directors of the Franklin Park Public Library District recognizes that the Library was created to serve and provide materials to all of the people of our District regardless of age, gender identity, race, religion, disability, sexual orientation, national origin, or political or social views. The collection is intended to provide access to information and materials in various formats to serve the needs and anticipated needs of the community, within the limitations of space and budget.
- 2.2 Widely diverse points of view, including controversial and unorthodox subjects, will be available in the collection.
- 2.3 Responsibility for children's (children are defined as age 17 and under) access to library materials, including digital and physical, rests with their parents and/or legal guardians. Selection and display will not be inhibited by the possibility that materials may come into the possession of children.
- 2.4 The Library endorses the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights (<http://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/librarybill>).
- 2.5 The Library endorses the American Library Association's Freedom to Read (<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomreadstatement>) and Freedom to View (<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomviewstatement>) statements.

3. Selection of Materials

3.1 Responsibility

The Board of Directors of the Franklin Public Library delegates to the Executive Director the responsibility for selection of library materials. The Executive Director, in turn, may delegate selection responsibility to various qualified staff members.

3.2 Method

Professional journals, trade journals, subject bibliographies, publishers' catalogs and promotional materials and lists of recommended titles are the tools used for selection.

Standard review sources include but are not limited to the following: Booklist, Library Journal, Publishers Weekly, and School Library Journal.

FRANKLIN PARK PUBLIC LIBRARY DISTRICT COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

All purchase requests from patrons will be considered. If there is enough demand or interest in a title, it may be purchased even if it has been unfavorably reviewed.

3.3 Criteria

Librarians apply their professional judgment and experience in selecting material according to the following list of criteria. All criteria do not apply to each item. Materials are judged as a whole rather than on isolated passages.

3.4 Examples of Criteria

- Relevance to local interests and needs
- Suitability of subject and style for intended audience
- Historical significance
- Relation to existing collection
- Reputation and/or significance of the author/artist and publisher/producer
- Authority, competence, and purpose of the author/artist
- Attention of critics, reviewers, and the public
- Comprehensiveness and depth of treatment
- Objectivity
- Clarity, accuracy, logic of presentation, and/or ease of use
- Artistic presentation
- Vitality, readability, or ability to sustain interest
- Value of resource in relation to its cost

3.5 Pornography

Material legally defined by law as pornography is excluded from the collection. However, works that present an aspect of life honestly are not necessarily excluded because of frankness of expression.

3.6 Digital Resources

All of the foregoing criteria relevant to the selection of materials in traditional formats apply to digital resources as well and involve additional criteria:

- Ease of access and number of access points
- Hardware and software requirements
- Vendor support and contractual requirements
- Staff training requirements
- Usage and price point of the product

4. COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

5. SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Digital Resources

The Library's digital resources are intended to serve individuals of all ages by meeting a wide range of academic, entertainment, and informational needs as well as promoting lifelong learning. The collection includes eBooks and eAudiobooks, and audiovisual content from various providers. While some digital collection selection is handled at a consortia level, local selection and deselection of digital resources falls under the same criteria as print resources.

Foreign Language Collections: Adult

The Library maintains a small collection of Spanish and Polish language materials. Each collection consists of popular fiction and nonfiction books, audiobooks, and periodicals and is intended for the educational and recreational needs of patrons fluent in the languages represented. These collections are maintained as separate browsing collections for the convenience of library patrons.

Foreign Language Collections: Children

The Library maintains a small collection of Spanish and Polish language materials to meet the recreational and educational needs of children from birth through middle school who are fluent in the languages represented. Each collection consists of popular fiction and nonfiction books. These collections are maintained as separate browsing collections within the children's area.

Local History Collection

The Local History collection is comprised of print and nonprint materials relating to the history of Franklin Park and the surrounding area. The public has access to these materials in the Local History Room. This collection is governed by The Local History Collection Policy (Appendix A).

Video Games

Newly-released console games are added to the circulating collection. The collection includes popular titles in a variety of genres from the top gaming consoles, and game ratings range from E (Everyone) to M (Mature).

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

STEAM & Early Literacy Kits

The Library's Kits are bundles of learning materials on a specific topic. STEAM Kits focus on popular topics in science, technology, engineering, the arts and mathematics. These kits are a mix of pre-packaged kits and librarian-curated kits, and are geared to preschoolers up to middle schoolers.

Early Literacy Kits are comprised of educational materials in a variety of formats (books, toys, DVDs) along with activity sheets. These kits are compiled and bundled together by librarians. The kits are on common subjects for a younger age group such as "ABCs," "123s," and "Colors," and are primarily for parents and caregivers to share with children from birth through preschool.

Rokus, Hot Spots, Chromebooks

The Library collects a selection of electronic devices which are offered to enhance the general public's access to digital content and online resources. Roku devices come preloaded with access to the Library's digital collection of movies and TV shows as well as streaming service subscriptions. Hot Spots are offered in partnership with Mobile Beacon and are intended to offer patrons a streamlined, portable and reliable internet solution. Chromebooks offer patrons a mobile computing option either in-house or for checkout.

6. GIFTS

6.1 Materials

The Franklin Park Public Library District accepts donations. All donations become property of the Library. Donors must understand that items will be added to the collection only if they are needed and only if they meet the same selection criteria applied to regular purchases.

The Library accepts:

- Hardcover and paperback books in good condition
- DVDs in their cases
- Audiobooks on CD in their cases or packaging
- CDs in their cases

The Library does not accept:

- Any materials that are must-smelling, dusty, dirt, water damaged, highlighted, or stained
- Encyclopedias
- Magazines
- Textbooks older than 3 years
- Videotapes, cassettes or record albums
- Computers, printers, or software

A receipt will be given at the time of donation if requested. This receipt will list only the number and type of items donated. The Library does not assign monetary value to donated items.

6.2 Monetary Gifts

The Franklin Park Public Library District accepts monetary gifts. If the purpose of the gift is unspecified, the Library will apply it where it deems it most needed. If the Library receives a monetary donation for the purchase of materials as a memorial or for other purpose, the general nature or subject area of the materials to be purchased will be based upon the wishes of the donor. Donors may select specific titles, subject to approval by the Executive Director. The selected title must meet the same selection criteria applied to regular purchases.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

7. WEEDING/DESELECTION

The Collection Development Policy serves as a guide for weeding and maintaining the collection as well as for the selection of materials. Weeding aids in maintaining the collection by implementing standards of currency, usage, physical quality, and need. Recognizing that not every part of the collection can be evaluated by the same criteria, the following are general guidelines for withdrawing materials:

- Item is so worn and dirty as to discourage use
- Item is damaged beyond repair
- Item is superseded by a new edition or better work on the same subject
- Item is outdated
- Item is not being used
- Item is inappropriate for the collection
- Item is readily available through other libraries

Evaluation and weeding of the collection are necessary to keep the collection responsive to patrons' needs, to insure its vitality and usefulness to the community, and to make room for newer materials.

8. RECONSIDERATION OF LIBRARY MATERIALS

The responsibility of the Library is to serve the interests and needs of the entire community. The materials in the collection reflect different viewpoints and include coverage of controversial subjects. Franklin Park Library does not promote particular beliefs or views. The selection of an item does not imply an endorsement of the author's viewpoint.

Patrons who request the reconsideration of library materials will be asked to put their request in writing by completing and signing the form entitled "Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials" (Appendix B).

The Executive Director will review the written request, taking into consideration consistency with the Collection Development Policy and the patron's recommendations. The Executive Director will inform the patron in writing of the decision resulting from the review. The Executive Director will also inform the Board of Trustees of the request for reconsideration and the resulting decision.

If the patron is not satisfied with the decision of the Executive Director, he/she may submit a written request for final reconsideration by the Library Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will review the request and notify the patron of their decision in writing. Their decision is final.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

APPENDIX A: LOCAL HISTORY COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Mission Statement: The purpose of the Local History Collection is to collect, preserve, organize, and make available to the public, materials relating to the history and development of the Village of Franklin Park and the surrounding area. The Local History Collection is the official repository of the proceedings of the Village Board and maintains a record of the Board's minutes, and copies of all Village ordinances and regulations, in compliance with Resolution 7980 R22, adopted by the Franklin Park Village Board of Trustees on August 13, 1979. In addition to records provided by the Village of Franklin Park, the Collection houses historical documents relating to the Franklin Park Woman's Club, which helped establish the Library in 1899.

The goal of the Collection is to maintain the materials in trust for future generations; therefore, they can be examined in the Local History Room only.

Scope of the Collection

The Local History Collection is comprised of print and non-print materials, including, but not limited to biographies and other information on the early settlers of the area, oral histories, video recordings, DVDs, movies, artifacts, historical and contemporary photographs and maps, yearbooks from the local school districts, and bound issues, and in some cases, microfilm records, of local newspapers. Materials in the collection do not circulate due to either rarity or special local value.

The general policy of the Local History Collection will conform to the Collection Development Policy of the Franklin Park Public Library District.

Selection Criteria

Consideration for inclusion in the Collection will be based on the overall merit of the material and in its overall usefulness in understanding Franklin Park History. Local authors must demonstrate a strong tie to Franklin Park to be included in the Collection. Self-published books by local authors are generally not included.

Limitations of the Collection

The Local History Collection will not collect such items as are beyond its ability to store and/or such items as the designated staff person may deem unsuitable for a local history collection.

Donations and Gifts

The Local History Collection shall accept such donations of material as are acceptable within the preceding policies. These donations shall be treated as library materials when accepted and shall not be altered at any future date by the donor. A Statement of Gift shall be completed by the donor, which will describe the item(s) donated. A copy of the form is appended to this Policy.

Weeding Materials

The Franklin Park Public Library District and the Local History Department reserve the right to re-evaluate items in the Local History Department with the purpose of determining the retention of said items in the Collection. The following factors are used in the decision to withdraw Local History materials: the value of the materials to the collection, limitations of space in the Local History Department, and the physical condition of the materials.

Acknowledgement

The Franklin Park Public Library District shall be acknowledged as the source of such information, photographs, etc., as may be used in any form of publication, whether in print or electronic.

Copyright

It is the responsibility of researchers to determine the owner of copyright on any material that they may use. For those materials which the library owns the copyright, permission must be obtained and credit listed before materials may be published by a third party.

Policy Review

The final authority regarding the Local History Collection rests with the Franklin Park Library District Board of Trustees. This policy is subject to review by the Library Director and the Board of Trustees, who must approve the policy.

COLLECTION DEVELOPMENT POLICY

Statement of Gift

I own the materials described below and voluntarily donate them to the Franklin Park Public Library District to become its permanent property and to be administered in accordance with established policies. The purpose and intent of this gift is to permanently transfer and assign all rights, title, and interest I possess to these materials to the Library. The Library may use its discretion to dispose of material inappropriate for its collections.
